

Dream follows a brief intro with insight by Jackie:

David is a man who walks with the Lord on this journey. He hears from God in dreams that are usually short but clear and right to the point.

The message in this dream is obvious. However, I feel that Donald Trump does not necessarily speak of the man himself, but of the spirit that God gave him to expose and clear out corruption in government. It would be a mistake to set the man “Mr. Trump” up to that place of power again, when indeed, that same power is now working in the many who see the Light.

Also, note that the scoring area or goal in football is called the “End Zone.” This new Spirit will carry the ball to the end of the age.

Plus, also note that the quarterback is known as the Leader on the field, and his position is seen as the most important in sports.

I dreamt that I was watching a football game and one of the teams was losing by a large margin. The coach then said I’m going to change quarterbacks and put in Donald Trump.

The team then won the game .

I thought this was an encouraging dream.

Blessings,
David
